

Recombination Survey

A Recombination Survey is completed for the purpose of combining two or more adjacent properties into one parcel of land. This may be necessary for adding structures or driveways, or when working in collaboration with adjoining property owners.

Avoiding general statutes for subdivisions may require an exemption map, which is a land division process used to divide a property into two or more separate lots.

To learn more about obtaining an accurate and affordable recombination survey for your property, contact Morgan Surveying at (336) 272-8922.